

CAMPUS TALK

Only this week remains of the first semester of this school year. Within a few days there will be a fresh board of grammar school graduates pouring in to the portals of P. H. S. There is expected to be at least 100 new pupils entered the middle of this year.

The third year Spanish pupils are charged to know that their semester examination will occur on Wednesday. This is not the only class that has been disconcerted at such news.

Fifteen minutes daily will be allotted to the various military companies this week to devote to an impromptu "officers discussion." The whole company takes part in answering the various questions put by Mr. Bailey, the drill master.

Mr. Bailey strongly urged every boy, yesterday, to buy a copy of the Plattsburg manual. There are about 80 copies on hand at Berryhill's for the convenience of the young cadets who wish to avail themselves of a greater knowledge of the science of military things.

To such an extent do the Coyotes go in for ice cream at lunch time that the freezers at the Coyote stand are nearly always emptied before the school day is done.

The exciting game of polo has died out. No longer do the boys desert themselves about the campus to the same extent that they did when the game was first introduced. There are but a few boys each day that still stick to the game.

SPORTING NEWS

The Tempe Normal school basketball team and the Phoenix high school basketball team will meet tonight at the town of Mesa for a friendly little game. The two schools are to meet to decide the question of superiority between themselves. Last time the two teams met the Coyotes defeated their opponents, but the game before that were defeated themselves.

Norman Chaney, forward, made 19 points in the basketball game with Globe, last Saturday. Norman is a star player on the team.

The whole basketball bunch is beginning to get nervous now about who is to take the big trip to Globe and Miami. Every man on the team wishes he had kept training and worked harder since the beginning of the season.

The trip to the two mining towns in the eastern part of the state will be a fitting reward for the good work done thus far by the Coyote basketball quintet.

The faculty will play the Coyote Juniors a game of baseball on the afternoon of January 29. There will be a hot time in the old town, the 29th.

Mr. McEuen, director of athletics for Phoenix high school, violently urges all members of the student body to wear their little red and black arm bands. There has been a marked falling off of the number of bands being worn now.

PHOENIX WILL BATTLE TEMPE

A basketball game, one that will be filled with inter-school rivalry from start to finish, will be played between the team of Phoenix high school and the Tempe normal school at 8 o'clock tonight, at Mesa.

Both schools will be represented by a big contingent of rooters, and the school yells of the two teams will keep the hall in hub-bub of noise and confusion during the entire contest. The Phoenix high school military band will provide music for the spectators and courage for the Phoenix team.

The Tempe normal school has ever been the bitter rival of P. H. S. in all forms of athletics. The climax of the rivalry has arrived. Tempe Normal has defeated the local high school once, and the local high school has defeated Tempe once. Tonight will be decided the real supremacy between the two educational institutions.

The Coyotes are out for blood. They feel confident of a sure and speedy victory over their Tempe opponents. The coaches say that P. H. S. will not have an easy time defeating the normals. In fact they will have to play about as hard as ever a team played.

The Coyotes are in splendid trim, and in the best possible condition to meet a strong team. In the last few days the P. H. S. quintet has played three strong basketball games, winning two of them, hence are in the best of practice and full of the lust of battle.

The normal team, too, is ready for the fray. It has spent much time and energy getting ready to meet the hated rival, leaving no stone unturned toward the betterment of the team. Members of the team have been keeping strict training to be fit for the struggle. Every basketball authority in the valley is of the opinion and is convinced of the fact that the game will be a good one, and that either team will have to go some to pile up a score with more than one figure in it.

All preparations have been made. The two teams are ready. The road to Mesa is passable. The people of the valley will have to do the rest.

Roper, commissioner of internal revenue. Mr. Roper expressed gratification at the proffered co-operation and "patriotic spirit" of the baseball men.

COTTON CITY IS ELABORATE PLAN

Backing the Cotton City land and building company, a five million dollars project, the objective of which is the building of an agricultural community in the heart of Arizona, are a number of prominent Arizona business men. Heading the company is E. A. Jones, chairman of the Arizona corporation commission.

Four thousand acres of land in the Casa Grande valley, Pinalima valley lands, and options on other holdings, are in the possession of the company. Casa Grande valley was selected as the location of the Cotton City townsite because it is on the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad. Casa Grande valley covers an area of about 1,000 square miles, and takes in approximately 400,000 acres. Pima cotton was first grown in this valley. It is declared to be the finest quality of all cotton and is superior to the Egyptian product. In laying out the city, plans have been made for a modern and up-to-date agricultural community. Men are now at work clearing the land, all surveying work has been completed and the building of Cotton City is under way.

Cotton City townsite is located midway between Tucson and Phoenix. Improved methods to be inaugurated for the purpose of obtaining an ample water supply are declared to preclude any possibility of shortage. The water supply is said to lay at a depth of 40 to 50 feet under the surface, inexhaustible and stored in a thick bed of gravel, supplied by an added source in the under-flow of the Santa Cruz river.

MOOSE PLANNING A GREAT DANCE

Loyal Order of Moose will be host to hundreds who are expected to attend the big free dance at Moose hall in the Masonic Temple building, 28 South Central avenue, beginning at 8:15 o'clock tonight. The affair will be open to the public.

E. J. Henning, of San Diego, past supreme dictator of the order, and who is declared to be one of the foremost orators of the country, will deliver an address on Mooseheart, which he declares to be the greatest vocational institution in the world. Mooseheart is kept up by the Loyal Order of Moose and is a home for disabled members of the order, as well as widows and orphans of dead members. More than 400 children are said to be being fed, clothed and educated at this institution.

Lieutenant J. A. Crozier of Canada, who is recruiting here for the British government, will talk on the war as it is being conducted in the trenches of Europe. Lieutenant Crozier has seen actual service at the front and is declared to be in a position to give some highly interesting, instructive and entertaining facts on his subject.

The honor of past dictator will be conferred on Lieutenant Crozier at the meeting tonight.

W. Ward Davis, who is declared to have "pacified" the pacifist who attacked Senator Henry Cabot Lodge at Washington last April, will give an account of the occurrence, Governor Hunt, and others, will also talk.

Special music will be furnished by the Tupper piano company.

NAME ENIGMAS FOR RED CROSS

Names, from the list of which, or from the outside, members of the Central Arizona chapter of the Red Cross may select a board of directors for the coming year were compiled by the nominating committee in session yesterday afternoon at the chamber of commerce rooms.

Thursday night at the Woman's club the annual meeting of members will be held, at which the fifteen directors will be chosen. Members are not restricted to the list arranged by the nominating committee, according to Chairman John D. Loper of the Central Arizona chapter, but the names were compiled as a list of candidates thought qualified to act in the capacity.

This meeting is of the utmost importance," says Chairman Loper, "and it is desirable that all members attend the meeting at which the final selections will be made."

OIL PRODUCERS TO MEET AT DENVER

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire] DENVER, Jan. 21.—Oil producers of Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Oklahoma and Kansas will meet in Denver Tuesday and Wednesday of this week to discuss the effect of the Walsh-Pittman coal and oil land leasing bill recently passed by the United States senate and now pending in the house of representatives. The announcement of the meeting was made tonight by John T. Burns, western secretary of the American Mining Congress.

Plans of the administration, announced at Washington yesterday, to substitute amendments for sections 16 and 17 of the senate bill brought the decision to call the meeting, local oil men predicting that the passage of the amendments would end further development of the Salt Creek field in Wyoming and work harm to the small operators whose interests sections 16 and 17 were designed to protect.

Conferees of local oil men were held today and will be continued tomorrow.

SURVEY OF NENANA FIELD COMPLETED

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire] WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Completion of the work of surveying and dividing into leasing units the more accessible parts of the Nenana coalfield in Alaska was announced tonight by Secretary Lane with notice that the blocks soon would be offered for lease. The area comprises about 19,000 acres in the valley of Lignite creek. Coal in the field is said to be lignite of fair grade, which will be used by the Alaskan railway, by Tanana river boats and by local consumers.

USE WOMEN'S HOSE TO MAKE NECKTIES

It was a year ago that a woman—from Kentucky, we believe—pointed out the enormous waste in women's stockings. They are very long, and there is only a small part of them that gets much wear; but that part being worn, all that expanse of hosiery which is not intended to be seen, and which is intact, must be discarded. Her lament over the waste of millions in stockings of irreproachable legs, but deplorable feet, has set earnest people to thinking and the last step of economy has been taken.

The problem was naturally solved by a woman—possibly by a million women. It would certainly never have occurred to a man. And yet it concerns the men, it concerns them very closely. It has occurred to a woman that when the feet of the stockings more or less mutilated by friction with the shoe, are deftly amputated, the remaining portion is about the length of a man's necktie. Here is a chance to plug a leak in the family resources. This long tube wrought of Sea Island cotton, and colored with scores of hues that were not invented when the rainbow was made, can be utilized as the husband's necktie when the wife finds a hole. Darning is too troublesome and has gone out of fashion, and it wouldn't do at all, because with the present style of neckties, it would show. Millions of dollars' worth of stocking legs can be used as men's neckties. Nothing could be more sentimental than for an engaged girl to give all her discarded stockings to her fiancé, or a more overwhelming proof of his passion for her than his willingness to wear them.

PARISIANS FIRST ATE OX-TAIL SOUP

(Kansas City Journal) Ox-tail soup! Did you ever stop to think that this is perhaps the only soup that is made out of the tail of an animal? We use many animals for food, and we use nearly every part of the animal, but the use of the ox-tail for cooking purposes is unique, and is only another proof of the quotation "Necessity is the mother of invention."

Its use in soup dates back to the French revolution and is one of the good things that came out of a horror. During the reign of terror, in 1796, many of the nobles were reduced to beggary and starvation stared many a one in the face. One of these nobles being more observant than the others, noticed that the wagons that carried the hides of animals to the tanneries contained besides the skins, the tails. He also knew that nearly every part of the ox was edible and so he thought he would try an experiment. Begging for permission to cut off a few of the tails of the hides that hung from the wagon he took them to his home and boiled them down to a soup. In his starving state he thought he had never tasted anything so good, and he was not slow in telling his secret to a few of his noble friends. Very soon there was a great demand for the tails of oxen, and the popularity of the soup gained, and still holds first place among good soups.

SOLDIER IS SAVED BY A NEUTRAL DOG

(The Animals' Friend) In a part of the line where the enemy's trenches were only thirty yards away there had been some sharp fighting, and one of the English had been left severely wounded midway between the lines, moaning pitifully. To attempt to rescue him would have been almost certain death. The officer, taxing his brain for a plan of rescue, caught sight of a dog which was accustomed to run to and fro between the British and German trenches, finding friends in each. He quickly wrote a note, "Will you allow us to bring our man in?" tied it around the dog's neck and sent him across to the German line. In a few minutes the animal returned with the reply, "Will give you five minutes." Instantly the officer and a couple of his men took a stretcher and were overthe top. They got their man into safety in four minutes, and gave the enemy a cheer, by way of thanks, before both sides returned to business.

COTTON CITY LOTS $30 AND UP. COTTON CITY ACREAGE—WITH WATER, $150 AND UP. (The $150 acre land will be advanced to $200 soon—because it is worth it—and more.)
